Mr. Smith alleges that in Chalk's precinct the polls were not opened for thirty or forty-five minutes after the proper time, that many of the officers were absent a part of the time, and that outsiders who had no business inside were allowed there. That the ballots were thrown into the box, instead of into bags or other proper receptacles, and that Mr. Johnson was credited with 86 votes when he did not receive that many.

It is alleged that at Smith's many illegal votes were cast and counted by reason of having no right to vote being allowed to do so.

Mr. Smith claims that in Gallman's he was credited with 43 votes when he received 48, at the Plow Factory with 128 when he received 138, that Mr. Johnson was given 51 votes at Henneberger's, when it should have been 44, with 135 at Rogers when it should have been 125.

Claims to Be Entitled to Many More Votes Than Shown in the Returns.

SOME OF HIS SPECIFICATIONS

Mr. J. Henry Smith, who was defeated on the face of the returns for the Democratic nomination for city treasurer at the recent primary by Mr. M. W. Johnson by five votes, this afternoon filed his contest with Chairman R. G. Caldwell of the Democratic city committee. The petition was prepared by Attorneys Hendrick and Miller, and alleges irregularities in nearly every one of the thirteen precincts in the city.

Mr. Smith alleges that in Chalk's precinct the polls were not opened for thirty or forty-five minutes after the proper time, that many of the officers were absent a part of the time, and that outsiders who had no business inside were allowed there. That the ballots were thrown into the box, instead of into bags or other proper receptacles, and that Mr. Johnson was credited with 86 votes when he did not receive that many.

FOR FALSE SWEARING

GRAND JURY BRINGS IN SENSATIONAL INDICTMENT.

Herbert Hawkins Alleged to Have Sworn Falsely in Horse Case.

THE GRAND JURY'S REPORT

Something of a surprise was created in the city this morning when Herbert Hawkins, a prominent young society man and commission merchant, was arrested on a bench warrant by Deputy Sheriff Will Lydon, the grand jury having indicted Mr. Hawkins Saturday for alleged false swearing in Justice Jess Young's court some time since in a case involving a horse trade.

It appears Hawkins and Charlie Clark swapped horses and the former became dissatisfied and the case was taken into the courts on a writ of delivery.

It is claimed that the testimony of nearly all the witnesses was diametrically opposed to that of Mr. Hawkins, and the grand jury when it met was asked to take up the matter, with a result that the indictment was found.

The grand jury returned quite a batch of indictments Saturday evening, but none of them were given out, and most of them were against saloon keepers and keepers of bawdy houses for misdemeanors.

The trial of the case against Mr. Hawkins will come up at the December term of court.

Chronic Sores Eating Ulcers, A Constant Drain Upon the System.

Nothing is a source of so much trouble as an old sore or ulcer, particularly when located upon the lower extremities where the circulation is weak and sluggish. A gangrenous eating ulcer upon the leg is a frightful sight, and as the poison burrows deeper and deeper into the tissue beneath and the sore continues to spread, one can almost see the flesh melting away and feel the strength going out with the sickening discharges. Great running sores and deep offensive ulcers often develop from a simple boil, swollen gland, bruise or pimple, and are a threatening danger always, because, while all such sores are not cancerous, a great many are, and this should make you suspicious of all chronic, slow-healing ulcers and sores, particularly if cancer runs in your family. Face sores are common and cause the greatest annoyance because they are so persistent and unsightly and detract so much from one's personal appearance.

Middle aged and old people and those whose blood is contaminated and tainted with the germs and poison of malaria or some previous sickness, are the chief sufferers from chronic sores and ulcers. While the blood remains in an unhealthy, polluted condition healing is impossible, and the sore will continue to grow and spread in spite of washes and salves or any superficial or surface treatment, for the sore is but the outward sign of some constitutional disorder, a bad condition of the blood and system which local remedies cannot cure. A blood purifier and tonic is what you need. Something to cleanse the blood, restore its lost properties, quicken the circulation and invigorate the constitution, and S. S. is just such a remedy.

S. S. reaches these old chronic sores through the blood. It goes to the very root of the trouble and counteracts and removes from the blood all the impurities and poisons, and gradually builds up the entire system and strengthens the sluggish circulation, and when the blood has been purified and the system purged of all morbid, unhealthy matter the healing process begins, and the ulcer or sore is soon entirely gone.

S. S. contains no mineral or poisonous drugs of any description, but is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy, a blood purifier and tonic combined and a safe and permanent cure for chronic sores and ulcers. If you have a slow-healing sore of any kind, external or internal, write us about it, and our physicians will advise you without charge. Book on "The Blood and Its Diseases" free.

THE TWO FROGS.

Find the Third Frog.

One hot summer, the lake in which two Frogs lived was completely dried up, and they were obliged to set off in search of water elsewhere. Coming to a deep and deliciously cool well, one of the Frogs proposed that they should jump in at once.

"Wait a bit," cried the other.

"Why so?" impatiently rejoined the first frog.

"Because, friend, prudence demands that we consider how, if the well should dry up, we could get out again."

MORAL—The moral of this fable is intended to put us in mind to "look before we leap." That we should not undertake any action of importance, without considering first what the event of it is likely to prove, and how we shall be able to come off, upon such and such provisos.

THE PARDONS ISSUED IN KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 18—When Governor Beckham issued his doctored pardon record, previous to taking the stump in advocacy of his candidacy for re-election, he failed to include in that remarkable document the number of paroles granted under his administration. The state parole system is in reality the "back door" to the governor's pardon mill that is at present temporarily closed down.

The parole record in the office of the state prison commissioners is a revelation, and for the first time in the history of the Beckman administration is made public.

According to the record, as submitted to The Herald correspondent, by Secretary of the commission, Mr. Joseph Barlow, today, the 194 paroles have been granted to persons convicted of felonies in the state during the past three years. Of this number 134 are persons charged and convicted of the crime of murder and manslaughter, who since conviction and incarceration have been extended executive clemency by the board of prison commissioners, which includes Edward Finnel, of Cynthiana; George V. Greene, Bowling Green, and James M. Richardson, of Glasgow. Classified, the list is as follows:

For murder..... 50

For manslaughter..... 84

For malicious cutting..... 2

For malicious shooting..... 8

For housebreaking..... 10

For horse stealing..... 5

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 21—Mrs. Amos Powers, mother of Caleb Powers, arrived in Georgetown Saturday and went immediately to the jail to visit her son. She was accompanied by her physician, Dr. Samuel Bennett, of Williamsburg, Ky., who because of her infirmities, had volunteered to make the trip with her.

Mrs. Powers, contrary to expectations, did not break down upon meeting her son, but, like the Spartan mother, bade him be brave, stand and fight for his idea of the right, and for the upholding of his innocence.

When Mrs. Powers was admitted to the jail Caleb Powers was brought out into the reception lobby, and no eyes witnessed the meeting between mother and son.

Mrs. Powers after many exhortations to her son to be brave in facing the ordeals of the next few weeks, left the jail at 3:55 o'clock, accompanied by Miss Gray.

Mrs. Powers is a woman whose face shows great strength of character. Apparently about 65 years of age, her hair is dark, mingled with gray. Her face is cast in the same general lines as that of her son, aquiline, but strong, showing above a firm mouth and heavy eyebrows, a forehead indicative of intelligence and strength of purpose. It is not hard for one having seen the mother to realize the source of Powers' strength of will.

BEAT THE CHAMPIONS

Paducah Took Both Games Yesterday Afternoon.

The Egyptians Put Up a Stubborn Fight in the Presence of a Large Crowd.

GOSSIP OF THE DIAMOND

The close of the baseball season here yesterday was marked by two fairly good games, witnessed by about 1,000 people. Both were seven innings, and the first was won by Paducah by a score of 8 to 7, and the next by a score of 7 to 3. The first was quite exciting. Gardner, the left paw of the Henderson club, pitched for Paducah and Brocket, the crack pitcher of the K. I. T. league, was in the box for the Egyptians. Paducah's slugging did the work. Many errors were made on both sides, but costlier on the Paducah side, and in the seventh inning the score was seven to seven, with Paducah at the bat and two men out. Meredith singled, Gardner lined out a fly to center field, and Powers muffed it. Meredith scoring and ending the game, but the Cairo boys, seeing they were beat, tried to run in a bluff by claiming that Powers threw the ball down, but it was too plain a muffed and Umpire Doyle declined to entertain such a proposition. The winning run ended the game.

The next game was not so exciting, ten hits being made off Lloyd, the Cairo twirler, and four off Best. The crowd was well pleased with the games, and Paducah won the loving cup from the champions. The summary is:

This is an astonishingly large number of convicts turned loose in the course of three years, when it is taken into consideration that Governor Beckman, according to his own "doctored" statement, has in addition released 204 persons convicted of felonies during the same length of time. From an inspection and comparison of the record in the office of the state prison commission the murderer found a fund of sympathy, and, with alarming regularity and frequency, witnessed the opening of the prison doors through which he walked to freedom. A majority of these turned loose by the prison board were "life terms," but whether there is any protest of record against releasing them is not known, as that portion of the records is not accessible to the press.

POLITICAL MEDACITY.

Senator Hanna, in a masterful address at the opening of the Ohio state campaign Saturday severely rebuked those men of affairs who deliberately and without truth or justification for political effect make public statements misrepresenting the financial condition of the country. It is well enough to play politics, but when it is carried to the extent of menacing the welfare of the people of this great country of ours by alarming them with mendacious accounts of chimerical conditions and imaginary dangers, it is carrying it entirely too far. Senator Hanna in criticizing the declarations made by Mr. Clark at Akron, O., recently, says that the utterances were criminal because they are untrue.

He said further:

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
of 18 Voted On at the November Election.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment to Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

The General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, offices or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon;

Provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of an ad valorem tax on the property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light or electric power or

"As far as the financial and industrial interests of this country are concerned they never have been in as better shape than today. There is nothing to interfere with the onward progress of this development except one thing, and that one thing is to shake the confidence of the people in the principles and policies exercised by the party in power.

"But if it be true? True that such notes of warning as issued by Mr. Clarke are necessary to alarm the people in order that they will change their ideas as to the continuance of the Republican party in power (several voices: "We won't change them")—no, you will not change them, but I want to reply to this statement, uttered apparently in all seriousness at a public meeting which was supposed to be the initial one of the Democratic party in this campaign. To sound the keynote of the party they flung out the red flag and announced to the people of this state and nation that the country was on the verge of a collapse.

"Either Mr. Clarke knows absolutely nothing about business affairs or that single utterance standing alone, as affecting the results of this campaign should condemn him and the party he represents to oblivion forever. It is worse than criminal.

"Suppose that, predicted upon that speech, an alarm had been sounded that would have had practical effect. Suppose, even—which is not true—that conditions of this country had been such that a spark like that would have ignited the dynamite, and then, after the harm was done, after wretchedness and woe had come to thousands of families, after it had been demonstrated that there was no cause for alarm, but merely the vaporings of a politician, seeking to bewilder the minds of honest people, what ought to be done with such a man? Is he fit, or is any such man fit, to stand before an intelligent people, such as we have in Ohio, and be called a leader, or an adviser, as to the best methods and best policies to be adopted in the interest of our country?

"I say, my friends, that the only danger that can possibly come—and I make this statement from the standpoint of the business man, and I think I know my business, better, at least than my friend Clark does, anyway—the only danger that can possibly come to the people of this country is through their own act, by their own power, and the will to change those policies which have made us what we are today."

The Democrats of Kentucky have now resorted to personal abuse. The only criticism that has been made by Republicans of Democratic officials was as officials, and no attack has been made on their private character. Yet, doubtless for want of argument, the Democrats have begun to assail the private character of every man who makes a speech for the Republican cause, from Colonel Belknap to some of the speakers who are not candidates. Abuse never helped any cause. If the Democrats have no better grounds for wanting to be elected to office than these they are indeed short of campaign material.

HON. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN, who has just resigned as colonial secretary of Great Britain, has replied to the invitation of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, which asked him to attend its annual meeting at Chicago this year and make an address on his fiscal proposals, saying that he will be unable to leave England this year. This will be disappointing to the prominent financiers of this country, who hoped to be able to hear Mr. Chamberlain explain his views, which are of international importance just now.

The Democrats of the state should not become alarmed for the Hon. General Percy Haley simply because Governor Heckham is now exhibiting Congressman Ollie James about the state. What if Congressman James is running the governor's campaign without the assistance of Hon. General Haley? Has not Hon. General Haley been left at Frankfort to run the state without the assistance of Congressman James?

He said further:

Dick Poore Badly Cut By Ernest Morrison Who Says Poore Held Him Up.

POORE SAYS HE WAS PLAYING

Dick Poore, 18 years old, who lives at Third and Monroe streets and is a member of the Wheeler Guards, was badly cut last night about 10:30 o'clock near Third and Jefferson streets by Ernest L. Morrison, a young man about the same age, who claims Poore tried to hold him up.

He reported to the police last evening that he was on his way home from calling on a young lady, when he noticed Poore some distance away crossing the street, and not knowing him suspected from his action that his intention were not good and prepared to defend himself. When he reached the shadows of some trees he noticed Poore a few feet away apparently waiting for him, and asked what he wanted. Poore advanced and poking a pistol into his face, replied "I want your money."

Morrison then seized the hand containing the pistol and cut Poore twice, once in the side and once in the breast, leaving him in the gutter. He did not know who the would-be robber was but reported the occurrence to the police, who located Poore soon afterwards by his going to Dr. Robertson to have his wounds dressed.

Morrison is a young man of Trimble street employed at the canning factory, but formerly a motorman, and again this morning reported the trouble to the police, showing that he is not afraid to have the trouble investigated.

Poore is seriously hurt, but not necessarily fatally so. The wound in his side, should pneumonia develop, may result fatally, however.

Officer Thad Terrell was sent today to the wounded boy's residence and Poore stated the facts as young Morrison gives them, but claims he only did it for fun, and had no intention of committing highway robbery.

In order that the case may be thoroughly investigated, a warrant was issued against Poore for attempted highway robbery, and one against Morrison for malicious cutting. The trial will come up before Judge Sanders when Poore is able to attend court.

KILLED TOM GILLS IN MARCH

The first verdict ever returned on the Sabbath in Paducah was brought in yesterday morning in the murder case against Ike Stevenson, colored, alias "Snake," when Special Judge James Campbell in circuit court polled the jury and received a verdict sentencing the accused to 21 years in the penitentiary.

Stevenson last March walked into Schultz's saloon near Ninth and Washington streets, and found Tom Gills talking to a woman. He asked Gills what he was doing "talking to his woman," according to the evidence, and pulling a pistol fired. Gills died a day or two later.

Stevenson claimed that the shooting was accidental, and that he drew the pistol only for fun. The case went to the jury Saturday afternoon and yesterday morning a verdict was reached.

Special Judge Campbell happened to walk into the rotunda of the Palmer house about 9 o'clock yesterday morning when he found the jury assembled in the lobby in charge of Deputy Sheriff Will Lydon. He was informed that they desired to see him at the court house.

Judge Campbell immediately repaired to the county court house, convened court and received the verdict, which was that the accused, Ike Stevenson, was found guilty and sentenced to 21 years about 9:15 o'clock.

The jury was then called and asked if that was their verdict, and each replied that it was. The members were then discharged.

Judge Campbell said this morning in regard to a verdict being returned on Sunday, that the court of appeals has decided that while deliberating on a case and finding a verdict is working, nevertheless if a jury reaches a verdict on Sunday, some of the members may desire to attend divine worship, and it is best to receive the verdict on Sunday and allow the members to go to church.

Judge Campbell said he did not know how many went to church yesterday after being discharged.

TWO TIPS

AND BOTH WINNERS.

A man gets a friendly tip now and then that's worth while.

A Nashville man says: "For many years I was a perfect slave to coffee, drinking it every day and all the time I suffered with stomach trouble and such terrific nervousness that at times I was unable to attend to business and life seemed hardly worth living. I attributed my troubles to other causes than coffee and continued to drench my system with this drug. Finally I got so bad I could not sleep, my limbs were weak and trembling and I had a constant dread of some impending danger and the many medicines I tried failed to help me at all."

"One day a friend told me what Postum had done for her husband and advised me to quit coffee and try it but I would not do so. Finally another friend met me on the street one day and after talking about my health he said, 'You try Postum Cereal Coffee and leave coffee alone,' adding that his nervous trouble had all disappeared when he gave up coffee and began to drink Postum.

"This made such a great impression on me that I resolved to try it although I confess I had little hopes. However, I started in and to my unbounded surprise, in less than two weeks I was like another person. All of my old troubles are now gone and I am strong, healthy, a living example of the wonderful rebuilding power of Postum. It is a fine drink as well as a delicious beverage and I know what a splendid effect it had on me to give up coffee and drink Postum. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

People and Pleasant Events.

MARRIED IN CALIFORNIA
The Los Angeles Herald of September 11 says:

A romantic wedding was celebrated in the parlors of the Hotel Argyle Wednesday morning, when Miss Delia Patterson, of Paducah, Ky., was united in marriage to A. H. Curtis, of this city Rev. Dr. McIntyre, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Miss Patterson, who is a striking brunet, came here to be wedded to Mr. Curtis, to whom she had been engaged for some time, but who, on account of business, was unable to go after his bride. The parlor had been artistically decorated for the occasion with cut flowers. The bridal couple stood for the ceremony in the bay window, beneath a canopy effect of date palms, white crepe paper and chrysanthemums. The fireplace and mantel were banked with peppers, and potted plants were prettily arranged. The bride was gowned in a traveling suit of brown cloth, carrying a bouquet of roses, and was attended by little Thelma Herbert, as flower girl, who was attired in white. Mrs. Alta Herbert played the wedding march.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Overholzer, host and hostess of the hotel, gave a reception in honor of the bride and groom. A short program was rendered, Walter Farnsworth rendering several vocal solos and little Ethel Barnhart, formerly from the bride's home, gave several readings. Miss Minnie Pelton and Master Frank Miller presided at the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis will reside at the Argyle.

To Thaw Frozen Pipes.

Some electricians at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, are making a good business by thawing frozen pipes. They carry about a large battery on a sleigh, call at afflicted houses, and run a strong current through the offending portion of the pipe. The apparatus has never been known to fail, and the water begins to flow again very quickly.

Dogs as Beasts of Burden.

Rev. Jacob Kurtz recently caused a sensation in Pennsylvania by driving from Chambersburg to York, fifty-three miles in a small cart, which was drawn by two large dogs. THE SEASON IS OVER Paducah Club Has Now Disbanded for Winter.

A Few of Them Remain Here for a Few Days--Say They Were Not Reserved.

GOSSIP OF THE PLAYERS

The baseball future of Paducah is uncertain. It is the general opinion of the hundreds of enthusiastic fans of the city, however, that with a good management and an association that realizes in time that good men can be obtained only for good salaries and acts accordingly. Paducah may next season boast of a winning club. The close of the present season found Paducah with one of the strongest teams in the league, but it came too late. The men were not disciplined enough earlier in the season and often they gazed the night before too long into the cup that cheers which is said to have been responsible for the loss of many a game. A man cannot have a night of it and the next day see a ball, either to catch or to bat it very well.

Last night Long, Ray, Akers, Benke, Wilson, Witt, Doyle and Meredith left for home leaving Gardner, Gerard, Potts, Best and Edmunds here. Gardner left this morning for his home in Tennessee and the other three will remain here a few days before returning home. Edmunds probably remaining here through the winter.

The boys were paid off in full last night and the association has closed until summer.

It is a singular fact that the best pitchers in the league came from Tennessee and most of them from small towns. Freeman came from Dresden, Harris from a little country town near Clarksville; Myatt from Dixon, Tenn., Gardner from McLeansboro, a town of 153 inhabitants; Colling from near Memphis, and Bomar also from Tennessee.

Nearly all the Paducah players live in or near Louisville and will spend the winter there. Meredith, Akers, Wilson, Gerard, all live in Louisville and Benke and Ray with Best live in Newport, Ky., but spend their time principally in Cincinnati. Edmunds lives in Columbus, O., and Witt in Missouri; Potts lives in Nashville and Doyle in Greenville, O. All have been reserved, the local management claims, but the boys say they did not sign for next year and scratched the reserved clause out of the contract.

Long goes to Louisville to finish the season out with the Louisville American team.

MAIL SERVICE.

Any person desiring to submit a proposal for the performance of screen wagon service at this city for the contract term of four years beginning July 1, 1904, and ending June 30, can obtain from the postmaster upon application a copy of the advertisement and a blank form for proposal. Proposals considered must be delivered at the office of the second assistant postmaster general, postoffice department, Washington, D. C., by 4 p. m., December 1, 1903.

NEW STREET CAR SCHEDULE.

Night schedule for the street cars hereafter is as follows: Cars will leave Broadway and First streets for Dossett's station on the Broadway line and for the Trimble street division at 10, 10:30 and 11 p. m., and Fourth and Broadway for Union station at the same hours. ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

He shook himself and tried to be cheerful. In fact he hummed a crockety, something about "La belle Jeanne," and a bright morn-

Days passed, and at last the great event arrived. It was a frosty night, clear, sparkling with stars, a keen breath cutting down from the northwest. M. Roussillon, Alice and Lieutenant Beverley went together to the river house, whither they had been preceded by almost the entire population of Vincennes. Some fires had been built outside, the crowd proving too great for the building's capacity, as there had to be ample space for the dancers. Merry groups hovered around the flaming logs, while within the house a fiddle sang its simple and ravishing tunes. Everybody talked and laughed; it was a lively racket of clashing voices and rhythical feet.

When the Roussillon party arrived it attracted condensed attention. Its importance, naturally of the greatest in the assembled popular mind, was enhanced—as mathematicians would say—to the nth power—by the gown of Alice. It was resplendent indeed in the simple, unaccustomed eyes upon which it flashed with a buff silk glory. Maitrons stared at it, maidens gazed with fascinated and jealous vision, and young and old let their eyes take full liberty. It was as if a queen, arrayed in a robe of state, had entered that dazzling log edifice, an apparition of dazzling and awe inspiring beauty. The dancers swung together and stopped in confusion. But she, fortified by a woman's strongest bulwark, the sense of resplendency, appeared quite unconscious of herself.

Little Adrienne, hanging in blissful delight upon Rene's strong arm, felt the stir of excitement and wondered what was the matter, being too short to see over the heads of those around her.

"What's it? What is it?" she cried, tiptoeing and tugging at her companion's sleeve. "Tell me, Rene; tell me, I say."

Rene was gazing in dumb admiration into which there swept a powerful anger, like a breath of flame. He recollected how Alice had refused to wear that dress when he had asked her, and now she had on. Moreover, there she stood beside Lieutenant Beverley, holding his arm, looking up into his face, smiling, speaking to him.

Beverley had not noticed it before, and when he presently got possession of Alice he asked her to tell him the story of how she planted it on the fort, although he had heard it to the last detail from Father Beret just a moment ago. They stood together under its folds while she nimbly sketched the scene for him, even down to her picturesquely disagreeable interview with Long Hair, mentioning whom led up to the story of the Indian's race with the stolen dame Jeanne of brandy under his arm on that memorable night and the subsequent services performed for him by Father Beret and her after she and Jean had found him in the mud beyond the river.

The dancing went on at a furious pace while they stood there. Now and again a youth came to claim her, but she said she was tired and begged to rest awhile, smiling so graciously upon each one that her rebuff thrilled him as if it had been the most flattering gift of tender partiality, while at the same time he suspected that it was all for Beverley.

Helm in his most jovial mood was circulating freely.

It was late when fathers and mothers in the company began to suggest adjournment. In the open lamps suspended here and there the oil was running low, and the rag wicks sputtered and winked with their yellow flames.

"Well," said M. Roussillon, coming to where Alice and Beverley stood insulated and isolated by their great delight in each other's company, "it's time to go home."

Beverley looked at his watch. It was a quarter to three!

Alice also looked at the watch, and saw engraved and enameled on its massive case the Beverley crest, but she did not know what it meant. There was something of the sort in the back of her locket, she remembered with satisfaction.

Just then there was a peculiar sound in the flagging crowd. Some one had arrived, a courre de bois from the north. Where was the commandant? The courre had something important

French Lick and West Baden Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and casinos one can have all the entertainments and pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

Miss Flora May Clark, (Lillian Lancaster) has resigned with Barney Gilmore's company.

Mr. Claxton Wiltbach, manager for Miss Adelaide Thurston, has out also this year as a star his wife, Lizzie Evans, who has been seen here several times in support of Miss Thurston.

Grace Elliston is to be Richard Mansfield's leading woman this season. She has done excellent work as Benita in "Arizona," and last season in support of Henry Miller in "The Taming of Helen."

Herrmann, the Great, entertained fairly large audiences at the Kentucky Saturday afternoon and night and as usual gave satisfaction in every respect. In palming he is the best on the American stage. His illusions are new and mystifying, and the vaudeville features of the show are most attractive. He went from here to Louisville.

Merry Katie Emmett will be seen at the Kentucky Wednesday night. Possibly those who have watched the career of this charming little actress will exclaim "What! is Katie Emmett still playing "Willie Rufus?" She certainly is, and why not, when the public demand for seats to see her has never been greater than this year? This year Miss Emmett is said to have an exceptionally strong company in her support and one of the best performances yet seen of this well known play will be given. Seats go on sale Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Mr. Oscar Gould, the affable manager of the Richard & Pringle's minstrels here today, has been all over the south, and says that business is very good. The show has been out eleven weeks, and is coining money. It is said to be the best colored minstrel in the country, and always draws large houses. Mr. Gould made many friends in Paducah last spring as treasurer of the Ferari Brothers' Carnival company, which he left in July to accept the management of the present company. The show has just completed a tour of Texas, where people were turned away.

"An Aristocratic Tramp" with Kilroy and Britton heading a big company of the very best eastern talent, will be the attraction at the Kentucky on Tuesday evening for one performance only. "An Aristocratic Tramp" is unlike any other play with a so-called tramp title in that it appeals to and pleases the mother, father, son and daughter alike. It yields a beautiful story and makes the evening's entertainment worthy the careful attention of every amusement lover.

S. H. Dudley, the comedian, who made such a hit last season with Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels, is again with the same organization and will be seen in a brand new skit or afterpiece in which "Jim Jackson" is having his troubles in the "Policy Shop." Dudley is the role of the tough country nigger, "Jim Jackson," is true to nature; his droll sayings and quick gun plays keep the audience in one continual roar of laughter. Critics say that Dudley is the funniest negro on the stage. The company will appear at the Kentucky tonight with a brand new show. The parade today indicates that the people expect a first class performance.

LIVELY TIME

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION BREAKS UP IN A ROW.

The Democratic mass convention Saturday afternoon at Benton, Marshall county, to name delegates to the district convention at Kuttawa today, broke up in a row. There are two factions in the county, it seems, the Wyatt and the Warren-Vinson factions, and each went to the convention prepared to run over the other if the opportunity presented itself.

The Warren-Vinson faction got control of the convention, however, and put R. C. Boyd in control over the Wyatt faction's candidate, Judge James Fisher. Upon its being learned how the land lay, the Wyatt crowd waited until the others had dispersed and held a rump convention, the result being that two delegations went to Kuttawa today.

Disinterested persons who attended the convention say that the two factions were about equally divided. The chairman of the defeated faction stated to friends after it was over that his crowd intended to do the same thing the anti-Wyatt crowd succeeded in doing, only the last named beat them to it.

Just Received

To Our Dorothy Dodd Customers and Also Those Who Have Never Worn This Celebrated Shoe.

DEAR FRIENDS:

YOU have the average health and the average strength of a woman of your age. Yet you find yourself unduly fatigued by a day spent upon your feet. This is not a question of your condition but a question of your shoes. It is just here that we can help you.

We have built our famous "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe on an entirely new plan

Not shaping it from guesswork measurements on a wood last, but using the actual bones, muscles and ligaments of the foot as the last for the shoe, working entirely from "X-ray" photographs. The result is the most remarkable shoe you ever dreamed of, and one which makes no day too long for its happy possessor. We can never make you realize its comfort till you try a single pair. Won't you do this today? Very truly,

GEO. ROCK.
